

Lonseal is celebrating its 45th year of producing vinyl sheet flooring. This year at NeoCon, Lonseal featured three tailored, classic products. The first is Lonspec, a classic speckle design with a beautiful, refined visual. The look feels current due to its ultra small scale and the refreshing nine-color palette. A budget-friendly product, Lonspec is ideal for corridors and can offer an alternative where there is a tight VCT-level budget.

Lonmoire combines a subtle wood grain pattern with fine wavy lines. A new embossing overlay helps create the effect of moiré fabric, a watermarked silk with a horizontal texture. Available in six natural colors, Lonmoire has a refined, upscale appearance. Its target markets include corporate and healthcare.

Londeck Sol is an exterior product with a pebbly texture that started as flooring for pontoon boats. Londeck Sol reduces heat absorption and is available in four neutral colors.
