

Product Declaration Statement

The following is provided to ensure that Lonseal, Inc. customers have all pertinent information regarding materials and formulations used in our production processes:

- ▶ Per the EPA Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA) all products and sundries are asbestos and lead free.
- ▶ Per the US Security and Exchange Commission (SEC) Exchange Act, Loncommodore, Lonmarine Wood, and Lonmarine Stone use tin that is obtained from Minsur (CID001182) in Peru, a Conflict-Free Smelter Program (CFSP) Compliant Smelter. All other products and sundries are free of conflict minerals (tantalum, tin, gold, and tungsten). The most current Conflict Minerals Reporting Template (CMRT) from the Responsible Minerals Initiative (RMI) can be provided upon request.
- ▶ Per EU regulation (EC) 1907/2006 – REACH, Loncommodore, Londante, Lonmarine Stone, Lonmarine Wood, Lonmoire, Lonstrand, and Lonseal’s Aircraft Collection contain none of the substances shown on the ECHA Candidate List of Substances of Very High Concern (SVHC) available as of July 8, 2021, in any quantity greater than the regulatory threshold of 0.1% w/w. All Lonseal products and sundries are considered an article as defined by this regulation.
- ▶ Per the Restriction of Hazardous Substances Directive (RoHS) 2015/863, none of Lonseal’s products meet the definitions under Article 3 or fall under the categories shown in Annex I of the Electrical and Electronic Equipment (EEE) Directive 2011/65/EU, and are exempt from meeting these requirements.
